Class R6	$29	0.28%

How did the Fund perform last year?

The Fund's absolute performance was positive. Its largest performance contributor relative to the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (the Index), was a Securitized Credit allocation (Credit Risk Transfers, and Commercial Mortgage-Backed, Asset-Backed, and Non-Agency Mortgage-Backed securities). Investment Grade & High-Yield bonds were also additive for returns as credit spreads narrowed. Duration and yield curve positioning were also additive. On the downside, an underweighting to U.S. Treasury Securities versus the Index and an Emerging Market Debt securities allocation were modest detractors.
