How did the Fund perform last year?

Developed international equities benefited from investor relief as tariff risks declined this period, on valuations, and as an alternative for investors apprehensive about U.S. equities given policy uncertainty in the U.S. The period was volatile, with performance between sectors and countries varying in part due to industry-specific tariff expectations and impacts. Although the Fund generated a positive return during the period, it lagged the MSCI EAFE[®] Index (Net) (the Index) due to stock selection and sector allocation.
