How did the Fund perform last year?

The Fund and the Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) market, as measured by the FTSE Nareit All Equity REITs Index (the Index) generated positive total returns. Markets navigated a turbulent year as the U.S. Federal Reserve pivoted from cutting rates in the second half of 2025 to a hawkish, higher-for-longer stance in 2026. Escalating conflict in the Middle East and the resulting oil price shock reasserted inflation risk, pushing the U.S. 10-year Treasury yield up 52 basis points. Investor sentiment remained cautiously optimistic, underpinned by resilient consumer spending and continued GDP growth.
