Source: Neuberger, Trucost, MSCI. Unless otherwise stated, all reporting data shown is an average of the four quarter ends, throughout the 2025 calendar year. Where a fund was launched during the year, only subsequent full quarter ends are included. Investment strategies' ESG integration approaches may evolve over time. This material is intended as a broad overview of the portfolio managers' current style, philosophy and process. The Fund is actively managed, which means that the investments are selected at the discretion of the investment manager.

1. As per SFDR. More details on the methodology can be found here. For definitions please refer to the Glossary at the end of this material.
2. Additional avoidance criteria may be applied. Please see the fund's supplement for the comprehensive list of avoidance criteria, which can be found here.
3. This rating is based on Neuberger's proprietary methodology. Further information, including disclosures under Regulation (EU) 2024/3005 (the ESG Ratings Regulation), is available here: http://nb.com/ESGRatingsRegulation.

Effective August 4, 2026, the Fund's name was updated to reflect the firm's rebranding from Neuberger Berman or NB to Neuberger.

NEUBERGER

Glossary

SFDR Classification
According to the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation ("SFDR"), a fund will be classified as Article 6, 8 or 9 depending on their sustainability characteristics. Article 8 funds promote environmental or social characteristics provided that the companies in which the investments are made follow good governance practices. Article 9 funds have a sustainable investment objective. All other funds would be classified as Article 6 funds.

Sustainable Investments
Investment in an economic activity that positively contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

Neuberger Quotient Rating
Neuberger's proprietary internal rating system that scores issuers on environmental, social and governance characteristics relative to peers. It is built around the concept of sector-specific ESG risk and opportunity and assesses issuers against certain ESG metrics. The fund-level rating is calculated as a weighted average of the issuer-level ratings.

Third-party ESG Rating
This is represented by the MSCI ESG Score, which indicates how well an issuer manages its most material ESG risks relative to sector peers or the overall ESG performance of a region.

Coverage
Coverage refers to the proportion of portfolio holdings within the data coverage universe of a rating system based on a particular metric.

Neuberger Net-Zero Alignment Indicator – Alignment Status
We measure issuer net-zero readiness using our proprietary Net-Zero Alignment Indicator, a forward-looking tool that seeks to capture an issuer's status and progress toward net-zero targets. The Indicator was created in partnership with our clients with decarbonization targets and incorporates specific sub-indicators that were informed by the high-level expectations of the Institutional Investor Group on Climate Change ("IIGCC"). The net-zero alignment status of the fund is measured by the sum of investments in issuers with approved science-based emissions reduction targets.

Carbon Emission
Carbon emissions are apportioned to the portfolio based on total assets for the banking sector and EVIC (enterprise value including cash) for all other sectors. Scope 1 emissions are from directly emitting sources that are owned or controlled. Scope 2 emissions are from the consumption of purchased electricity, steam, or other sources of energy generated upstream from a company's direct operations. Scope 3 emissions encompass all other emissions associated with an issuer's operations that are not directly owned or controlled by the issuer.

Carbon Footprint
Carbon footprint is derived from the absolute emissions attributed to an investor based on their ownership share of an issuer's total invested capital as defined by EVIC. The sum of issuer's total apportioned carbon emissions is normalized by the total market value of investments covered by TruCost carbon emissions data to calculate the portfolio carbon footprint, expressed in metric tons CO_2e/$million invested.

Carbon Intensity
Carbon intensity is derived from the absolute emissions attributed to an investor divided by million dollars in revenue. Carbon intensity contribution is normalized by the total market value weight of holdings covered by TruCost to calculate the portfolio weighted average carbon intensity, expressed in metric tones of CO_2e /$million revenue.

NEUBERGER

Risk Considerations

Market Risk: The risk of a change in the value of a position as a result of underlying market factors, including among other things, the overall performance of companies and the market perception of the global economy.

Liquidity Risk: The risk that the fund may be unable to sell an investment readily at its fair market value. In extreme market conditions this can affect the fund's ability to meet redemption requests upon demand.

Credit Risk: The risk that bond issuers may fail to meet their interest repayments, or repay debt, resulting in temporary or permanent losses to the fund.

Interest Rate Risk: The risk of interest rate movements affecting the value of fixed-rate bonds.

Emerging Markets Risk: Emerging markets are likely to bear higher risk due to a possible lack of adequate financial, legal, social, political and economic structures, protection and stability as well as uncertain tax positions which may lead to lower liquidity. The NAV of the fund may experience medium to high volatility due to lower liquidity and the availability of reliable information, as well as due to the fund's investment policies or portfolio management techniques.

Derivatives Risk: The fund is permitted to use certain types of financial derivative instruments (including certain complex instruments). This may increase the fund's leverage significantly which may cause large variations in the value of your share. Investors should note that the fund may achieve its investment objective by investing principally in Financial Derivative Instruments (FDI). There are certain investment risks that apply in relation to the use of FDI. The fund's use of FDI can involve significant risks of loss.

Counterparty Risk: The risk that a counterparty will not fulfil its payment obligation for a trade, contract or other transaction, on the due date. Operational Risk: The risk of direct or indirect loss resulting from inadequate or failed processes, people and systems including those relating to the safekeeping of assets or from external events.

Sustainable Risk: The fund may focus on investments in companies that relate to certain sustainable development themes and demonstrate adherence to environmental, social and corporate governance practices. This may mean the universe of securities from which the Fund can invest in may be smaller than that of other funds and may underperform the market as a result.

Currency Risk: Investors who subscribe in a currency other than the base currency of the fund are exposed to currency risk. Fluctuations in exchange rates may affect the return on investment. Where past performance is shown it is based on the share class to which this factsheet relates. If the currency of this share class is different from your local currency, then you should be aware that due to exchange rate fluctuations the performance shown may increase or decrease if converted into your local currency.

For full information on the risks please refer to the fund prospectus and offering documents, including the KID or KIID, as applicable.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. The value of investments may go down as well as up and investors may not get back any of the amount invested. The performance data does not take account of the commissions and costs incurred by investors when subscribing for or redeeming shares.

The value of investments designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates can result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital.

Tax treatment depends on the individual circumstances of each investor and may be subject to change, investors are therefore recommended to seek independent tax advice.

Investment in the fund should not constitute a substantial proportion of an investor's portfolio and may not be appropriate for all investors. Diversification and asset class allocation do not guarantee profit or protect against loss.
