Investment Strategy
• The Portfolio seeks to achieve its investment objective primarily by investing in debt securities and money market instruments, including through the use of FDI, issued by governments and their agencies and corporations worldwide including within Emerging Markets. • Securities will typically be dealt or traded on Recognised Markets globally without any particular focus on any one industrial sector. Securities may be rated investment grade or below by a Recognised Rating Agency. • The Sub-Investment Manager implements a disciplined investment process that is consistently applied across all fixed income sectors with an ongoing focus on identifying the most attractive investment opportunities in the fixed income market, building a well-diversified portfolio whilst minimising single credit issuer risk. • The Portfolio may opportunistically invest up to 10% of its NAV in participation interests in floating or adjustable rate senior secured loans, which are securitised and freely transferable, and which meet the regulatory criteria to be considered money market instruments. • The Portfolio may also take long and synthetic short positions in insurance-linked securities (such as catastrophe bonds) whose performance is linked to specifically defined loss events, typically events giving rise to major insurance claims, such as natural catastrophes (earthquakes, storms or similar phenomena), pandemics or cyber-attacks as well as in insurance-linked securities related products. No more than 10% of the Portfolio's NAV will be invested in catastrophe bonds. • Under normal market conditions, the Sub-Investment Manager anticipates that the Portfolio's interest rate duration will be within a range of 2 to 5 years. • The maximum proportion of the Portfolio's NAV that can be subject to total return swaps is 20%. The expected proportion of the Portfolio's NAV that will be subject to total return swaps is 5%. • Repo Contracts may be used subject to the conditions and limits set out in the Irish Prospectus. • The Portfolio will not utilise securities lending or margin lending. • The Portfolio may invest up to 40% of its NAV in Emerging Market Countries' debt securities. • The Portfolio will use FDIs for investment purposes, efficient portfolio management purposes and/or hedging purposes.	Refer to "INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE, FOCUS AND APPROACH" of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on the investment strategy.

KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?	Refer to "RISK FACTORS" of the

The value of the product and its dividends or coupons (if any) may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:		Singapore Prospectus for further information on the risk of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
• Fixed Income Securities and Downgrade Risk – Fixed income securities are subject to credit risk and price volatility. Fixed income securities are also exposed to the risk of being downgraded, which can cause a significant drop in the value of the Portfolio. The Sub-Investment Manager may or may not be able to dispose of the debt instruments that are being downgraded. • Lower Rated Securities Risk – The Portfolio may invest in lower rated or unrated (i.e. non-investment grade or high yield) securities, which are more likely to react to developments affecting market and credit risk than are more highly rated securities. The Portfolio may therefore find it more difficult to sell such high yield securities or may be able to sell these securities only at prices lower than if such securities were widely traded. The Portfolio may experience difficulty in valuing certain securities at certain times. • Emerging Market Economies Risk and Emerging Market Debt Securities Risk – Investing in emerging markets may involve heightened risks (some of which could be significant) such as greater social, economic and political uncertainty, and periods of extreme volatility. Debt securities of Emerging Market Countries may be subject to greater risk of loss of principal and interest and liquidity risk, and be exposed to fluctuations in yields or prices, than debt securities issued by obligors in developed countries. • Currency Risk – The base currency value of the investment of the Portfolio designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations in respect of the relevant currencies. The currency exchange rates of Emerging Market Countries tend to be more volatile than those of more developed countries. As the base currency of the Portfolio is not in Singapore dollars, Singapore investors may be exposed to an additional currency risk. • Currency Hedging Risk – Currency hedging instruments may involve the risk of a default by a counterparty.
Liquidity Risks
• The Portfolio is not listed in Singapore and you can redeem only on Dealing Days – There is no secondary market for the Portfolio. The Portfolio may be unable to sell an investment readily at its fair market value. This may affect the value of the Portfolio and in extreme market conditions, its ability to meet redemption requests upon demand. Your right to redeem may be suspended or deferred under certain circumstances.
Product-Specific Risks
• Risks relating to the use of FDI – FDIs may be subject to various types of risks, including market risk, liquidity risk, counterparty credit risk, legal risk and operations risk. In addition, FDIs can involve significant economic leverage and may, in some cases, involve high risk of significant loss. The use of FDIs may lead to risk of loss of capital or increase the volatility of the Portfolio's NAV. • Risks relating to dividend payment – Dividends paid out of capital amount to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment which may result in an immediate decrease in the NAV of the relevant shares. An investment in high yield securities does not necessarily imply high dividend distribution for all share classes.
