

Andrew Laurino is a Managing Director of Neuberger Berman and a member of the Dyal Capital Partners Investment Team. Drew brings deep experience to our team, having served as a strategic advisor for many alternative asset managers. Drew joins us from Tiger Bay Advisors, a boutique strategic advisory and consulting firm focused on alternative asset managers. Prior to this, Drew was a director in Credit Suisse's Hedge Fund Strategic Services for four years and also spent five years at Lehman Brothers—most recently in the Hedge Fund Coverage Group, where he worked on numerous strategic advisory mandates in the hedge fund and private equity industries. He earned a BS in Foreign Service with a concentration in International Economics at Georgetown University.
