Composite Description

The Managed Account Group ("MAG") International ADR Composite (the "Composite") includes Neuberger's calculations with respect to all wrap fee or similar client accounts of third-party intermediaries (each, a "Sponsor") that are managed on a discretionary basis by Neuberger in the MAG International ADR investment style ("MAG Portfolio"). The Composite is not specific to any Sponsor or client account. Specific client account performance is reflected in the official books and records maintained by the Sponsor or other custodian selected by the Sponsor or the client. The MAG Portfolio is available only through Sponsors that have engaged Neuberger to manage client accounts on a discretionary basis or to provide non-discretionary investment recommendations in the form of a model portfolio. The MAG Strategy seeks to invest in a broadly diversified portfolio of foreign companies that are listed on U.S. exchanges. The Composite was created in July 2005 and performance inception is April 1994. From April 1994 to July 2005 performance represents the International ADR Institutional Composite.

Primary Benchmark Description

The benchmark is the MSCI EAFE (Net) Index (Europe, Australasia and Far East). The index is a free float-adjusted market capitalization index that is designed to measure the equity market performance of developed markets, excluding the US & Canada. The MSCI EAFE Index consists of the following 21 developed market country indices: Australia, Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Japan, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Singapore, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom. Net total return indexes reinvest dividends after the deduction of withholding taxes, using (for international indexes) a tax rate applicable to non-resident institutional investors who do not benefit from double taxation treaties. Effective June 2016, the primary benchmark was changed from the MSCI EAFE Index (Gross) to the MSCI EAFE Index (Net) to better reflect the holdings held in the composite.

Secondary Benchmark Description

The benchmark is the S&P ADR Index. The index is constructed from the non-U.S. components of the S&P Global 1200. These include the S&P Europe 350, S&P/TOPIX 150 (Japan), S&P/TSX 60 (Canada), S&P/ASX All Australian 50, S&P Asia 50, and S&P Latin America 40. All Level II and Level III ADRs or ordinary share listings in the U.S. issued by the constituents of these indices are included.

Reporting Currency

Valuations are computed and performance is reported in U.S. Dollars.

Fees

Pure "gross" returns, are presented as supplemental information, and do not reflect the deduction of any trading costs. Fees, or expenses, are presented for comparison purposes only. The Separately Managed Account ("SMA") fee charged by each sponsor typically include all charges for trading costs, portfolio management, custody and other administrative fees. Net returns are calculated by subtracting the hypothetical highest SMA fee charged by each sponsor (300 bps on an annual basis, or 75 bps quarterly) from the "pure" gross composite return.

Fee Schedule

The standard fee schedule in effect is as follows: 3.00% on total assets.

Internal Dispersion

Internal dispersion is calculated using the asset-weighted standard deviation of annual gross returns of those portfolios that were in the Composite for the entire year. Internal dispersion is not calculated if the Composite does not contain at least 6 portfolios for the entire year.

Annualized Standard Deviation

The three-year annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the Composite and the benchmark returns over the preceding 36-month period. The standard deviation is not required for periods prior to 2011.

Third-party economic, market or security estimates or forecasts discussed herein may or may not be realized and no opinion or representation is being given regarding such estimates or forecasts. Certain products and services may not be available in all jurisdictions or to all client types. Unless otherwise indicated, returns shown reflect reinvestment of dividends and distributions. Representative portfolio information (characteristics, holdings, weightings, etc.) is based upon the Composite, as of the date indicated, and is subject to change without notice. This Portfolio is available only through a wrap fee or similar program sponsored by a Sponsor that has engaged NBIA to manage certain of the Sponsor's client accounts on a discretionary basis or to provide the Sponsor with recommendations in the form of model portfolio. The Composite includes NBIA's calculations with respect to all wrap fee or similar client accounts of Sponsors that are managed on a discretionary basis by NBIA in the MAG International ADR investment style. The Composite is not specific to any Sponsor or client account. Specific securities identified and described do not represent all of the securities purchased, sold or recommended for advisory clients. It should not be assumed that any investments in securities identified and described were or will be profitable.

Weighted average market capitalization: Market capitalization is the price of the security multiplied by the number of shares. The weighted average market capitalization is the sum of the market caps divided by the percentage weight of the holdings.

Price-to-earnings ratio (P/E): The Price to earnings ratio is calculated by dividing the price of the security by the earnings per share. The higher the PE ratio the more the investor is willing to pay for earnings. A higher PE ratio would imply that earnings will grow higher in the future.

Long-term growth rate: The long-term growth rate is calculated weekly by taking the median of all First Call and IBES contributing broker estimates of a company's projected earnings growth over a period of two to five years. FactSet calculates a dollar-weighted figure at the beginning of each month based on the fund's portfolio holdings. The long-term growth rate is based on projections, which may or may not be realized.

Dividend Yield: Dividend Yield is the weighted average of the dividend yields of all the stocks currently held in the Portfolio. The dividend yield of a stock is the sum of the dividends paid per share during the last 12 months divided by the current price. Please note this represents gross yields of the current holdings in the Portfolio. It does not include expenses and does not reflect the actual yield an investor in the Portfolio would receive over time. Past yields are no guarantee of future yields.

Return on equity (ROE): It is a percent yield that indicates a company's profitability accruing to equity holders. ROE reveals how much profit a company generates with the money shareholders have invested. Return on equity is determined by dividing net income by total common equity.

Investing in the stocks of even the largest companies involves all the risks of stock market investing, including the risk that they may lose value due to overall market or economic conditions. Mid-capitalization stocks are more vulnerable to financial risks and other risks than larger stocks. They are generally less liquid than larger stocks, so their market prices tend to be more volatile.

Investing in foreign securities involves greater risks than investing in securities of U.S. issuers, including currency fluctuations, potential political instability, restrictions on foreign investors, less regulation and less market liquidity. An ADR, or American Depositary Receipt, is a security issued by a U.S. bank representing a specific number of shares of a foreign stock traded on a U.S. stock exchange and held in trust by that bank. ADRs allow U.S. investors to buy shares in foreign-based companies in U.S. dollars from domestic stock exchanges.
